

Brain Products Inside

Dr. Roland Csuhaj, Sales and Support

Let me introduce myself as the new Scientific Advisor and member of the sales and support staff at Brain Products.

I am a psychologist and graduated from the Eötvös University in 2005, where I specialized in cognitive and personal psychology. I started working at the Institute for Psychology of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences during the last years of my studies at the university. In the four years I spent there, I had the opportunity to work in two different teams. Initially, I was a member of the Method-centric Nonlinear Psychophysiology Research Group, and subsequently I joined the more cognitive-oriented Developmental Psychophysiology Group. During that time I used Brain Products hardware and software.

In 2009 I worked at the Westphalian Wilhelms University in Münster.

I earned my doctorate in cognitive psychology last year. Nearly half my doctoral dissertation – as well as my master's thesis – dealt with nonlinear analysis methods for EEGs, while the other half focused on efficient arithmetic problem solving.

I joined the Brain Products Sales & Support team in January 2010, where I shall be in daily contact with you. ●
